LOCAL AND PERSONAL

HONDO CELEBRATES.

Hondo again celebrated Armistice Day in a befitting manner last Wednesday, it being the 13th anniversary of the cessation of fighting in the World War.

The celebration this year was held at the Fair Grounds and was under the management of the Directors of the Fair Association with Ex-Service men cooperating. A large crowd gathered and many came from quite a distance, several being noted from as far east as San Antonio and west from Uvalde. There were many strange faces noted, faces of those who are seldom seen in Hondo.

There was some disappointment, especially among Judge Garner's friends, that neither he nor Mr. Ochs of San Antonio were present to speak as they had been announced to do. But Judge Garner had been compelled to proceed to Washington to look after pressing matters pending the opening of Congress in December and Mr. Ochs was unavoidably absent on account of conflicting engagements.

However, the crowd did not lack for oratorical edification. Promptly at eleven o'clock a vast throng assembled in the dance pavilion. Here, acting as master of ceremonies, Prof. W. N. Sasthoff called the audience to attention and explained the purpose of the assembly. After briefly reviewing the significance of Armistice Day, he introduced Judge R. J. Noonan who in a few well chosen words introduced Hon. James E. Ferguson, the orator of the day.

There was an immediate movement of the crowd from the seats around the hall to a standing position nearer the speaker where for an hour and a half young and old stood with the speaker and listened in rapt attention and with frequent applause to every word uttered.

Governor Ferguson expressed his pleasure at the opportunity afforded him to for the first time address his Medina County friends at Hondo and complimented the people on their progressiveness along the lines of a diversified agriculture as evidenced by equipment shown on the Fair Grounds for exhibiting farm and ranch products and encouraging their production.

Launching out into a discussion of politics he gave as his opinion that next year's political campaign should be based on three questions—that of prohibition, finance and taxation.

On the subject of prohibition he pointed out the folly of trying to either repeal the 18th Amendment or enforce the Volstead Act and offered as his solution the repeal of the latter act and the restoration of the regulation of the liquor traffic to

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK.

By Edson R. Waite, Shawnee, Okla.

THAT fame and fortune have come to the great advertisers. Their products have become a part of the life of the world.

Continuous advertising of quality has brought the good-will which has made these concerns what they are today. To be a success any business must have the good-will of the people it serves. Good-will is obtained by keeping customers satisfied.

It is a well known fact that continuous advertisers give full value for money spent and, by so doing, keep their customers satisfied. Continuous advertising makes a strong appeal to the pocket-book; so strong that it creates the necessary desire to possess. The selling of quality merchandise through the printed page means increased business, and increased business means increased profits. NOW IS THE TIME FOR THE BUSINESS CONCERN THAT IS NOT A REGULAR ADVERTISER TO GET BUSY. LARGE QUANTITIES OF MERCHANDISE ARE BEING BOUGHT DAILY FROM BUSINESS CONCERNS WHO ARE REGULAR ADVERTISERS. THERE'S A REASON, OF COURSE. PEOPLE HAVE BEEN EDUCATED TO READ THE ADVERTISEMENTS BEFORE THEY BUY, AND THEN BUY FROM THE ADVERTISERS WHO OFFER THEM THE BEST FOR THEIR MONEY.

If they are not reading your ad in your home paper they are reading your competitor's ad—somewhere.

the states from which agency it should never have been taken.

He pointed out the need of an enlargement of the circulating medium of the country and showed by figures how the banking laws of the country have automatically locked up the bulk of the money in the banks' vaults of the country. He thinks an increase of the per capita circulation from some 30-odd dollars, as we now have, to a hundred dollars is necessary to restore prosperity to the country.

And on the subject of taxation, he said the country must have relief from the excessive taxes now being paid or the government will eventually destroy itself.

The Governor was too modest to say so on the occasion, but if things shape up just right this writer opines that his friends will have an opportunity to vote for him for Representative in Congress from the State at large next year on the solid Democratic principles he so ably outlined in his address.

At the conclusion of his address he received many congratulations from his hearers.

By one o'clock most of the crowd had acquired a hearty appetite and following the speaking all repaired to the barbecue pits where a regulation barbecue, consisting of beef, mutton and kid, was served cafeteria style along with the usual accompaniments of pickles and black coffee. The meat was done to perfection and was served in lavish abundance so that all were feasted to satisfaction.

The remainder of the afternoon was given over to various out-door sports and contests mostly for the children, and the mingling together of the people in social intercourse and renewing of acquaintance one with another.

Many were attracted to a goat-roping staged in front of the grandstand in the afternoon. There were four contests with about ten contestants and about thirty-five goats were roped. Three prizes were awarded in each contest, but when asked for the names of the winners, the managers of the contest said just state that "C. J. Bless also ran" and let it go at that!

The grand finale was a dance at night with which the management was so well pleased that they pronounced it the best one held by the present management. Max Parkman and his orchestra furnished the music for the occasion.

An exhibit of Infantry arms and accoutrements and a demonstration of their use by a squad of soldiers under command of Lieut. C. D. Eddleman was a source of much interest throughout the day to many people.

Save for a high "March wind" that blew most of the day, weather conditions were ideal and the event passed off in a most agreeable and satisfactory manner. The management is highly gratified and asks us herewith to voice its thanks and appreciation for the large attendance and especially for the generous patronage of the barbecue, as all surplus food was purchased and there was no waste of anything on that score.

And thus again has the joy attending the ending of a war which cost this country heavily in life, property and good-will and won us nothing worthwhile been fittingly commemorated.

TURKEY GRADING SCHOOLS. NOV. 14th, 10:00 A. M.

The purpose of one-day turkey grading schools is to familiarize the farmers with the actual grading and dressing operations so that they might see the necessity of feeding and finishing out birds properly before marketing. It is not designed primarily to show the farmers how to run a packing plant.

The plan of procedure is about as follows: Meeting at 10:00 o'clock in the morning where an illustrated lecture is given explaining the U. S. Standard grades of turkeys and the reasons for these grades by the use of representative carcasses previously dressed. These are hung up before the audience and attention called to the various points. A brief discussion of the turkey industry in general with its application to the Texas raisers is also given. At the close of the meeting before noon an opportunity is given for questions to be asked where as a usual thing the various production problems of feeding, management and finishing are brought out. This meeting will be held at Earl Watson Poultry Place.

At 1:00 o'clock the crowd assembled at the packing plant where instructions are given on how to grade live birds and tell whether they are ready for market. About 15 birds are hung up and numbered. Each member of the audience is asked to examine each bird carefully as instructed and jot down the grade he thinks each turkey will dress out. The birds are then run through the dressing operation and again hung up for inspection. This gives the audience an opportunity to check their own mistakes, after which the instructor announces the official grade of each carcass, explaining meanwhile the defects or good points of each bird. This gives an opportunity to bring out very forcefully the reasons for avoiding rough handling of the birds at all times, holding them off the market until the pin-feathers are eliminated, fattening the birds out properly, killing with an empty crop, avoiding crooked breasts, the type of bird desired, and many other points.

Mr. Paul A. Cunyus, Asst. Extension Poultry Husbandman, and others from the Extension Service will have charge of the meeting. It is very important that every turkey raiser in Medina County be present as this is a chance to get first hand information without cost to you. This is the first time that such a school has been held in the history of Medina County and the people who are interested in turkeys should exert themselves to be present.

C. M. Merritt, County Agent.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Lloyd (Sonnie Boy) Rieber celebrated his seventh birthday, November 10th, with a party at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Rieber.

Among the games played was Peter Rabbit, Milton Bohmfalk won first prize, Lloyd Huesser second prize and G. H. Finger, the booby prize.

Sonnie was the recipient of many beautiful presents. Cake and ice cream were served after which the little visitors bade good-bye, wishing Sonnie many happy returns of the day.

Those present and participating in the games were: Henry Martin Finger, Maurice Zerr, A. J. Cook, G. H. Finger, Tommy Finger, Jimmy Grasciel, Charles Vincent Richter, Lloyd Huesser, Milton Bohmfalk, Milton Renken, James Lawrence Weynand and Lloyd Rieber.

THURSDAY BRIDGE CLUB.

Dr. and Mrs. T. B. Knopp were hosts to the Thursday Bridge Club, Tuesday night, in their lovely home. Vases of blue daisies enhanced the charm of the rooms. There were four tables of bridge.

Mrs. L. E. Heath and Dr. H. J. Meyer each won high score and were presented appropriate gifts.

The hostess served delicious sandwiches and coffee at the conclusion of the games.

Those present were Judge and Mrs. L. J. Brucks, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Heath, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Bradley, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Starnes, Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Smith, Dr. and Mrs. H. J. Meyer, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Finger, Mrs. O. B. Taylor, and Dr. and Mrs. Knopp.

WINDROW-LEINWEBER.

A wedding marked by charming simplicity took place at nine o'clock Monday morning, November 9th, when Miss Hedwig Leinweber, daughter of Mrs. F. J. Leinweber, and Mr. Nuel Windrow, son of Mr. W. H. Windrow, were married at the home of the bride's mother.

The beautifully appointed rooms formed an ideal background for the ceremony, and an improvised altar banked with fern, pink begonias and floor baskets of pink and white carnations and lighted with pink tapers in silver holders gave the setting for the beautiful ring service, which was read by Reverend A. M. Foster, pastor of the Methodist church of Lytle and a friend of the families.

Mrs. J. G. Barry played Lohengrin's Wedding March for the entrance of the bride and groom. She also exquisitely rendered "Melody of Love" during the ceremony. There were no attendants.

The bride, who entered with the groom, was lovely in a handsome travel suit of brown wool with beaver collar, brown hat and harmonizing accessories. She wore a beautiful corsage of Sweetheart roses and fern.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Windrow left for a brief wedding trip, after which they will be at home in Laredo, Texas.

The bride is the only daughter of Mrs. F. J. Leinweber and was a popular bride-elect, many pre-nuptial courtesies having been extended her. She is a graduate of Hondo High School and attended Our Lady of the Lake College in San Antonio.

The groom is a son of Mr. W. H. Windrow and also a graduate of Hondo High School. Since his graduation from the Baylor College of Pharmacy at Dallas in June, Mr. Windrow has been employed in a Laredo drug store as pharmacist.

Those who attended the wedding were Mrs. F. J. Leinweber and son, Fritz, Mrs. Alvin Leinweber of Del Rio, Mr. W. H. Windrow and daughter, Doris, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Windrow, Mr. and Mrs. George Carle, Mrs. J. G. Barry and little daughter, May Beth.

This paper joins the many friends of the bride and groom in offering congratulations and in wishing them happiness and prosperity.

MEYER-BENDELE.

The marriage of Miss Louise Bendele, daughter of Mr. Henry Bendele, of Shookville community, and Mr. J. C. Meyer of this place, was solemnized early Tuesday morning, November 10, in St. Joseph's Catholic church at Devine. Rev. Father Leo Goertz performed the wedding ceremony. Bridesmaids were Misses Adele Bendele, the brides sister, and Miss Ethel Bendele, cousin of the bride. Groomsmen were Glenis and Floyd Haby, half brothers of the groom.

Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party and a large number of guests went to the Rose Lodge Hotel where a sumptuous wedding breakfast was served.

After a wedding trip to Corpus Christi and other points of interest on the coast, Mr. and Mrs. Meyer will make their home in Hondo, where the groom is Manager of a local Humble Station.

The Anvil Herald wishes them joy and happiness along life's way.

HOBBO PARTY.

The Junior B. Y. P. U., accompanied by their sponsor, Miss Emma Buss, enjoyed a very pleasant Hobbo Party on Friday night of last week. In hobo fashion the lively group knock ed at the back doors of the members' homes where each received a lawn-out. Then they gathered on the lawn of the First Baptist church where a feast, consisting of sandwiches, cakes, and lemonade, was served to about 25 hoboes.

COMING AGAIN.

sembled for service. A cordial invitation to come to this service is extended to all.

Two divine services are scheduled to be held in Bethlehem Lutheran church Sunday. A German service at 10:30 o'clock in the forenoon, and an English service at 7 o'clock P. M.
All are cordially invited to these and all services in this church. Please bring your English hymn books to the night service.

All, either old or young, who desire to take a number on the approaching Christmas Eve program should announce themselves to the pastor right soon.

Last Sunday night the Quihi Lutheran church was filled beyond capacity by an interested and intelligent audience to hear and enjoy the splendid literary-musical program rendered by the Quihi Luther League. Mrs.
Henry Schuele presided at the piano in her accustomed affable and efficient manner, and Mr. Edwin Grell held the director's wand while the well trained church choir rendered several choice selections. Every number on the program was rendered excellently and brought a good message to the attentive hearers.
The cap sheaf of the program was an impromptu address by Rev. K. Konzack of Castroville, who said some interesting and pertinent things relative to the church and Christian living.

On Thanksgiving Day a splendid community barbecue will be given at the Quihi parish hall and lawn. All who wish to get barbecued meat for dinner can do so—plate dinner with coffee and the usual side dishes will be served for 30c. At 5 o'clock supper will be served and at 7 P. M. an interesting program of musical and literary numbers will be rendered.
This celebration offers friends and neighbors a fine opportunity to meet for several hours in neighborly and social intercourse.

COLONIAL COVERINGS.

The Colonial Theatre brings to its screen Saturday night another western classic, "Hurricane Horseman" featuring Harry Carey. The name gives an idea of the wonderful horsemanship revealed in this picture thriller. A fine supporting cast is seen with Mr. Carey.

There seems to be a trend, among the newer productions of Hollywood, toward simplicity and charm in talking pictures, a trend toward warm and appealing "heart interest." Eddie Dowling gives a splendid example of this seeming vogue in "Honeymoon Lane," which comes to the Colonial Theatre on Sunday and Monday.
"Honeymoon Lane" is far, far removed from the blood-curdling, or jazzy films of a few months ago. It is brimful with romantic fervor, seasoned with plenty of chuckles and out-right laughs, and played by a brilliant cast of actors including Ray Dooley, Raymond Hatton, Sun-
Collver, Mary Carr, Corliss Palmer, Noah Beery, George Kotsaros and Ethel Wales.

At last an ideal picture. There have been football pictures and there have been college pictures, but there never has been either a football or a college picture which contained the genuine thrill, legitimate heart interest, honest-to-goodness college atmosphere and solid enjoyment of "The Spirit of Notre Dame." Everyone who had a hand in making this picture put his entire heart in it because it was made as a memorial to the late Knute Rockne, the best loved and most famous character that American football has developed.
Lew Ayres is the star, and never since "All Quiet" has he had a picture which so thoroughly suited his remarkable talents. In addition to a cast which includes William Bae-well, J. Farrell McDonald, Sally Blane, Harry Harris and Nat Pendleton, it has the tremendous advantage of the Four Horsemen in person, and of Frank Carideo, twice All-American quarterback, and fourteen famous Notre Dame football stars. "The Spirit of Notre Dame" will be shown at the Colonial Theatre on Thursday and Friday.

NEW BUICK HAS WIZARD CONTROL.

The principles of "Wizard Control" will be demonstrated at all Buick showrooms the country over Saturday, November 14th, when the new Buick Eight for 1932 is shown for the first time.

"Wizard Control" has aroused much discussion since the preliminary announcement of the coming of the new Buick. It results from a sensational new method of car control featuring a button-controlled automatic clutch, with improved free wheeling, and a new synchro-mesh transmission with silent second gear, said to represent the finest engineering Buick has ever attained in a unit of this kind.

The presentation includes an extensive line of twenty-six new models, the most complete line ever built by Buick, grouped in four series, with smart, modish bodies by Fisher and a score of brilliant engineering features.

In the new body design, a skillful handling of the radiator lines has achieved a slim, fleet beauty, enhanced by chrome beading on the radiator shutters and chrome-plated streamline headlamps with fenderparking lamps in a harmonizing design. Dual trumpet-style horns, synchronized in tone and placed on each side of the radiator below the headlamps, and door-type ventilators, instead of the usual louvers, give further luxuriousness to the design. The entire body, with these features, and the new smartly sloping windshield and easy flowing lines, presents a longer, lower custom-built appearance.

Led by Wizard Control, Buick offers many outstanding advancement for 1932. There is a newly developed ride-regulator, easily operated while driving, by a small handle located on the steering column. It adjusts the riding qualities of the car to any type of road surface or condition, the speed of travel and the number of passengers in the car.
Marking a new trend is the instrumental panel, with all instruments grouped at the left, directly under the eye of the driver.

The new valve-in-head straight-eight engines provide optional high compression, capable of improved performance; while improved starting, carburetion and fuel supply system, and improved oil temperature regulator, and a new vacuum pump pioneered by Buick, giving positive windshield wiper action at all speeds are other important features.

Vacuum from the intake manifold always available when the engine is running, operates the automatic clutch. It is controlled by a touch of the foot upon a floor button, making possible smooth gear shifting without use of the clutch pedal, with instantaneous change back and forth from free wheeling to conventional control, as desired.

The conventional clutch pedal is retained, and yet it need not be used in shifting gears, save when making a cold start or perhaps when parking in close quarters. Free wheeling is obtained simply by depressing the button and releasing the accelerator.

Release the button or depress the accelerator, and the clutch engages again, making positive connection with the engine.

YOUNG FRIEND WHO?

If you but stop and think you will know who it will be—you if you will act quickly. Here is the point, business has started to recover from the depression and for the next few years as business improves there is going to be a greater demand than ever for the well trained young business man or woman. The one not specially trained will stand no show in big business. This financial depression has brought business down to real survival of the fittest. Don't be left out of the race for success because you were not prepared when opportunity came. Prepare now, and grasp the opportunity to make a real success as business returns to normalcy. Fill in for free catalogue and do some serious thinking as to whether it will be you or the other fellow who will be a success.

BODY TAKEN TO AUSTIN.

The stranger whose tragic death was reported in last issue of the Anvil Herald, was identified by papers on his body as John LaPrelle, Jr., and he had a mother and a brother, J. Tolbert LaPrelle, residing at Austin. When located by officials here, they sent for the body and it was taken to Austin early Friday morning.

Deceased was a civil engineer by occupation. He owned extensive properties near Corpus Christi but for some time had made his home at the Plaza Hotel in San Antonio. He is said to be survived by a grown son at present attending the University of Oklahoma.

The sympathy of the entire community is with Rev. P. E. Lancaster on the death of his brother, which occurred in an airplane accident near Waco last Friday. Mr. Lancaster and an instructor were piloting a plane purchased recently by Mr. Lancaster for his son, when the plane crashed to the ground, killing both men. Rev. Lancaster and family left immediately for Waco on hearing of the accident.

John A. Horger has begun the erection of an extensive building to house his undertaking business. The old building has been moved back from the street and will be used as a warehouse and a new and much enlarged building will be erected on its site. When finished it will be modernly equipped and Hondo will have funeral facilities second to few if any towns her size.

Gin Statistician John P. Lippold reports 1839 bales of cotton ginned from the 1931 crop up to Nov. 1st. Up to a like date in 1930 there had been 2484 bales. Although the per acre yield on the acreage is better than last year the crop is not going to reach last year's total on account of the reduced acreage.

For Rent—The C. F. Haass cottage, one block from High School building, on graveled street; five rooms, bath, screened sleeping porch; wired for electric lights and piped for gas; all newly ceiled and painted; large garage and a large lot. Call at Anvil Herald office or phone 127. tf Car-lot shipments from the local station for the past two weeks are 16 cars of corn the first week and 8 cars of corn this week, and one of oats for last week. Cotton ginned up to date is 1314 bales, with 1491 bales up to a like date last year.

EVERYBODY IS CORDIALLY INVITED

BRIDE HONORED.

The miscellaneous shower Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. T. C. Barnes was a charming affair arranged to honor Mrs. Rudolph Rath, a recent bride who is leaving to make her home in Austin, Texas. Hostesses were Mesdames Ernest Britsch, Alfred Rath, Berta McCall, T. C. Barnes, Earl Lacy and Emmett Korman.

Receiving with the hostesses was Mrs. George Gilliam of Corpus Christi, sister of the honoree. Keeping the bride's book were Misses Thelma Wilson and Mary Lois Barnes.

Autumn was featured in the floral decorations of yellow cosmos and yellow and white chrysanthemums. The place of honor was a center of attention, banked with floor baskets of yellow cosmos.

The bride, lovely in a charming blue georgette afternoon gown, was escorted to her place by little Miss Toadie Beal and Master Walter Speece. The trio entered to the strains of Lohengrin's Bridal Chorus played by Mrs. Joe Dillon at the piano.

Following the song, "I Love You Truly" by Miss Evelyn Barnes, accompanied by Miss Mary Ruth Wilson, a huge harvest basket, decorated with many hued autumn leaves, was brought in. Little Miss Evelyn gave the following appropriate toast:

This is the harvest time of the year When fruits and grains are gathered far and near; Those gifts—the fruits of a love that is true We have harvested Elizabeth—just for you.

During the inspection of the gifts a delightful program was rendered. There were piano selections by Mrs. Joe Dillon, Mrs. O. A. Fly, Miss Thelma Brucks, Miss Minnie Margue, Howard, Miss Frances Finger, Mrs. Mary Ruth Wilson and Mrs. C. T. Gilliam; vocal solos were given by Mrs. Volney Boon, Mrs. P. M. Shoop, and a vocal duet by Misses Thelma Wilson and Mary Lois Barnes; Mrs. Dwyce Cameron gave a reading of a flute and piano duet by Misses Jean and Merle McCall completed the interesting program.

The hostesses served a delicious course of chicken sandwiches, apple food cake and hot tea. During the serving Miss Janet Kimmey read the toast to the bride:

Elizabeth, why Did you act so shy And slip away to be wed, With no good friends near To give to you cheer, When your marriage vows were read?

No reason we know Why you should treat us so. But we love you just the same, And have met today In the usual way, To bless and honor your name.

Mistress Rudolph Rath, The name that you hath Is not a name that is new, For your Rudy dear Has many friends here That love him the same as you.

So we've gathered here With hearts full of cheer, To shower you both today, With these small tokens Of love unspoken To help you along your way.

Now we wish for you All that's good and true, No griefs or trouble or strife Be kind and be good, As you know you should And you'll be happy through life.

There were about 125 guests.

The Hondo High School Glee Club, Director Ed. Armstrong and the club's sponsors will motor to Castroville Saturday to present a concert before the Federated Music Club of Texas which are holding a two days' session in that city. We understand a number of Hondo's talented artists will also have prominent places on the days' programs. We hope to have a complete report for next week's issue of this paper.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY MEETS.

The Castro Colony Historical Society convened with a general meeting at the parish hall in Castroville Sunday afternoon at 2:30 P. M. A fair representation of people of Medina County towns was present. Judge H. E. Haass of Hondo was temporary chairman, assisted by Mr. J. T. Lawler of Castroville as Secretary, for the meeting.

At that time a copy of the Charter was read, and a number of directors were elected. Purpose of naming the organization, and drawing up by-laws and other business was left to the board of directors.

The secretary is furnishing us with a copy of the minutes of the meeting, but the report failed to arrive in time for this week's paper.

FOUNTAIN PENS ARE UNDERFED

Little do we realize how our fountain pen is abused. Instead of receiving one good meal every few days as its digestive tract demands, it is given baby feedings every two or three hours. The effect of this on its rubber sack is tragic, for it soon develops ulcers and is no longer able to earn its own living.

All of which leads us to the conclusion that if we filled the pen correctly, our friend would continue to serve us. Twenty two drops were found in a pen that had the lever lifted gently and allowed to close slowly, the pen remaining in ink for a few seconds afterwards. When carelessly fed the same pen held five drops. If you don't believe it, just

PROSPERITY—WHEN AND HOW?

By Fred W. Davis.

It is not pleasant for a writer to express fear for the future. If for no other reason, it is unpopular. The front page is not for the party who sees a dark cloud instead of a rainbow. A warning of danger ahead backed by a reason is not so welcome to the reading public as a prediction of a brighter tomorrow, even though it is made without reason. Optimism is a commendable trait if it is not used to obscure unpleasant, inevitable truths and thereby hinder proper precaution and preparation.

In this time of dire want in a world of plenty almost everyone, from the President on down, like the "Raven", repeat the same thought in almost the same words, viz: "This trouble has already reached its peak and better times are just ahead. We will come back stronger than ever because civilizations have always done so." Conference after conference has been called and attempts made to alleviate the very sick world but up to the present time they have been almost totally futile. For at least eighteen months practically the same optimistic assertions have been made with such frequency that they would have been wholly discredited long ago if it were not for the fact we just naturally want to believe them.

The statement that civilizations have always worked out of their difficulties are so far from the truth that I cannot understand how anyone familiar with the history of mankind can get his own consent to make such assertions. To go back a few years, or a few generations for comparisons is not touching the outskirts of the efforts of man upon this earth. Civilizations have always come back stronger than ever! When and where? Not in China; not in India, not in Persia, Arabia, Palestine or any of the other more ancient civilizations in that part of Asia; not in Greece, Macedonia, Rome or northern Africa, and to come to more modern times, not in Spain, Mexico or Peru. This old earth is but a vast cemetery of man's efforts to build and to enjoy the fruits of his own energy. No nation of modern Europe has yet been tested by time. They have almost all been beneficiaries of the discoveries and migrations following close upon the heels of the discovery of the Western hemisphere by Columbus.

At the beginning of the new era, opened up through the discovery of Columbus, Spain had a decided advantage and her condition today is a clear example of how quickly greatness and glory will depart from a nation that blinds itself to the doctrines of liberty and justice that were nurtured to full fruition in the western world. Through tyrannical rule she early lost the support of many of her colonies and colonial support has been the life-blood of all western European nations.

Everything is comparative. In ages past it took civilizations a long time to build, or utterly perish. Everything moved slowly, then. People endured slavery, both literal and economic, through fears of military authority, ignorance and superstition. Lyman Beecher said it took Rome 500 years to die. It took her longer to grow up. But both progress and retrogression have been accelerated beyond the dreams of even a few years ago. In times past each civilization dealt with its own problems so to speak, ignorant of the rest of the world. But now the whole commercial world is one interlocking net work or crazy quilt. We have shouldered immense burdens not our own and have seemingly saved no one and not even retained the friendship of the beneficiaries of our generosity.

It is pertinent to ask just now are we going to concentrate on our own affairs, or going to try to lift the burdens of the world also. If it is a fact we cannot enjoy prosperity unless other commercial nations are prosperous, upon what basis can the nations agree? We have loaned and invested some twenty-five billion dollars to other countries within the last 16 or 17 years with little results, apparently. How much more will it take? Every modern nation is raising tariff walls and going more completely into commercial isolation. How can this bring international harmony? There is now the greatest division in international financial policies we have had in modern times. Where will this lead us?

I do not mean to predict and do not wish to believe that we, as a nation, have shot our bolt, so to speak. But I do wish to emphasize the seriousness of our situation and the foolishness of relying upon a chance turn of the wheel of our fortunes. Even we will be compelled to atone for our national sins. We cannot go on without plans as comprehensive as the situation itself. We cannot even go on by advancing and retreating like we have been doing and like our cheerful optimists predict will be our way out. Advancement beyond a healthy growth, followed by declines beyond safety, is not going to (indeed cannot) build a permanent civilization. We must find approximate stability guaranteed by an approximate just division of the fruits of our energies or we are doomed, eventually. This cannot be done without extraordinary statesmanship backed by extraordinary courage. We have of late years surrendered liberties purchased by a more worthy ancestry at great sacrifice.

We have created a favored class that is not going to willingly surrender their advantages. We have made the barometer of our prosperity the shifting fortunes of gambling exchanges, which are wholly without stability and are ruled by mob psychology. By this means we have made it impossible for our rural people to prosper by denying them the right to price the fruits of their toil and investments. The farmers' enforced poverty is not only tragic but its legalization is the outstanding economic crime of all history. Those who are legalized to combine and conspire against values are so entrenched they are scarcely criticized even now when the whole world is gasping for its economic breath. Even when soft-pedal criticism is offered no reference is made to our farmers who are not only the chief victims, but are the only enforced victims. No corporation is compelled against its consent to have its values tinkered with by stock exchanges. But the producers of cotton, corn, wheat, etc. are compelled to suffer the game and are denied by law to know who is doing the damage.

Poverty of the masses brought about by the concentration of wealth into the coffers of a comparatively few people is one of the oldest crimes of history. Its permission is the surest fatal misstep any civilization can make. The sale value of surplus energy well distributed makes material progress and when it gets clogged into a few centers the very means of progress are seriously hampered, if not destroyed.

That the situation is threatening no sane person will deny. What are we going to do about it? To prattle the stock phrase that prosperity is just around the corner means nothing. It has even lost its force as a temporary anesthetic. Surely present conditions will not go on forever. But are we merely hoping that the big gamblers will soon turn optimistic and swing the pendulum far in the other direction until the harvest is again ripe for another shearing of the victims to be followed by another depression? Our peaks of prosperity and poverty come with rather regular frequency and each one surpasses all others in intensity. How Greetings for the Thanksgiving season! It's a season of bustle and hurry for the housewife, but after the turkey is basted and a savory smell is wafted from the oven door, and pumpkin and mince pies all in a row decorate the pantry shelf and all the appetizing side dishes are in the ice box and stove, the busy little woman has her breathing spell and a chance to be thankful on that day of days—thankful for the horn of plenty in these stressful times, even if every comfort and delight on that day has been the result of her tired fingers, for the family group around her, the happiness and contentment that the day emanates. She looks around her dinner table with a quiet smile of contentment—for hasn't it been her and her alone who has brought happiness to those at her banquet board? And tears of joy well to the surface when father bows his proud, gray head to offer thanksgiving. And the merry talk that breaks forth after the last amen—what a world of thankfulness! After the dishes are washed and rest in their accustomed places on the shelf, the time has come for the afternoon of Thanksgiving games. Juliette Frazier has not disappointed us for again comes from her a wealth of suggestions for hilarious fun on a cold, cheerful "Turkey Day." When you have gathered about you your children, or perhaps your grand children, and don't forget the old folks, introduce these games for their enjoyment. It's bound to be great fun!

Heretofore we have given hints for entertainments and cooking—two things that add work to the work of the lady of the household. This time however, Mrs. Frazier includes to great satisfaction a great treat for the tired lady who bends hour after hour over her work table. Read her suggestion, "Raising The Work Table." try it, then perhaps you might write us how the suggestion worked for you. And offer some suggestion of your own. They are always welcome and remember that the spirit of this page is to help each fellow worker for the glorification of the household.

We can't let this issue go by without a favorite recipe—its another honey teaser of the appetite. You might add this delicious delicacy to your Thanksgiving dinner. We are wise to Mrs. Frazier—she wants to gain a life-long friend too. Mr. Biediger, the Beeman, you know.

Did you read what Mrs. Amie de Berger wrote about us? Nice, wasn't it? Thank you.

RAISING THE WORK TABLE.

STEAMED HONEY PUDDING.

1-2 cup honey
2 cups bread crumbs
1-2 cup milk
grated rind of 1-2 lemon
1-4 teaspoon ginger
1-3 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons melted butter
2 eggs

Soak the bread crumbs in the milk add the honey, the grated lemon rind, the ginger, salt and the butter and combine. Add the eggs well beaten; then heat all the ingredients together thoroughly and steam two hours. Serve with whipped cream or lemon sauce.

THANKSGIVING GAMES

By Juliette Frazier.

When all the little cousins come together to "grandma's house" it often taxes the resources of the grown ups to keep the children busy in ways that will be happy both for them and for the older folks. Since Thanksgiving is a family festival the whole day should be planned so that nobody is left out. Games and fun must be of a sort that all of us from baby to grandpa can enjoy. It is a good day to play the old games—"Hold fast what I give you," "Jenkins says thumbs up" even "Blind man's buff" and "Jack's alive".

One distinctively appropriate pastime is a harvest judging contest. You will need a bag of peanuts, a basket of apples, a small sack of walnuts or pecans, a bunch of grapes, a bough of large sized leaves, an ear of corn and a pumpkin. Distribute slips of paper and pencils and ask each guest to judge how many peanuts in the bag, how many apples in the basket, how many nuts in the sack, how many grapes on the bunch, how many leaves on the bough, how many seeds in the pumpkin. Of course, that means work in counting the various articles, but this should not be burdensome when it is remembered that little planning beforehand will result in so much more peace and happiness on Thanksgiving Day. The pumpkin must be cut open at the top, its seeds counted, and its lid replaced. An appropriate favor should be given to the successful guesser.

While the guests have pencils, let them exercise their ingenuity in forming words from the word "pumpkin." A wedge of pumpkin pie, to be eaten on the spot makes an amusing award for the winner.

An apple or nut hunt will amuse the children. Have a good quantity of these typical fall products hidden about the room, the most successful searcher to be awarded a large red apple. Or ears of corn might be substituted for apples or nuts, one being a red ear. The finder of the red ear wins the hunt.

Since most children, as well as older folks like to listen to and to tell stories, why not have each one present tell a Thanksgiving story? The stories may be taken from his-

TEXAS AND TEXANS.
By
Will H. Mayes
"All Texans for All Texas"

Model Farm Home.

If there are such things as "ideal" farm homes, I have just been privileged to see one recently through the courtesy of Miss Maymie Malone, county home demonstrator from Brown county. I refrain from mentioning the names of the owners, because I have been assured that there are a number of others in the county that closely approach this one and that it is the hope of the demonstrators that many more home owners may soon follow the fine example furnished by these.

The front yard—the old fashioned kind with appling fence—is a flower garden filled with about all the flowering plants grown in Texas. A bloom with a great profusion of flowers except in coldest winter weather. The house within is as "spic and span" as possible for a constantly used home to be. Bright quilts and rugs—home-made—give cheerful color to the rooms. The living room—once a many-colored modern wall board and painted in a daub of paint—has been lined with soft grey tint. It serves as living room and office, for books are scrupulously kept on this farm.

Well-Filled Pantry.

The pride of the farm wife, though, is the pantry crowded with canned goods. When she determined to act on the home demonstrator's advice and can farm and garden products, she was without a dollar with which to start, and times were hard on the farm. There was no money with which to buy equipment or cans. Every dollar that came in was needed "to run the farm and the home"—to buy the things needed. With much effort enough was finally saved and traded to make a start canning.

This year 1,600 cans and jars have been filled with meats, vegetables and fruits, besides numerous bottles of catsups, dressings and fruit juices. There are 82 varieties in all, affording enough changes to please the most fastidious epicures. To enumerate them would be to list about everything that can be grown on a farm, and many foods are put up in a variety of forms all tasteful and delicious.

The Kitchen Cabinet.

This farm wife won as a first prize for best improvement made in a living room the material for building a kitchen pantry or cabinet, a neat piece of furniture put together by her husband. The shelves are constantly filled with everything that may be needed for a meal and as neatly arranged as any modern grocery store. The canned goods are supplemented with dried vegetables in large stone jars, potatoes, onions and other things that can be kept in bulk. The surplus is stored in a nearby cellar on shelves and in boxes.

Barn Yard and Farm.

Close by is the barn yard, where two immense fat hogs were taking on still more fat before the coming of cold weather. Two contented cows furnish an abundance of milk and butter. Over a hundred hens provide eggs for home and market. The granary and barn contain about 1,000 bushels of oats, corn in plenty and several hundred bales of hay. The teams are as well provisioned as the family. Land has been planted to grain; pastures are provided; soil being turned to catch the winter moisture for spring planting. A huge pile of wood is indicative of winter comfort and cheer.

Farming A Business.

This farm has become a successful business institution. The canned goods and other farm products find ready sale to pleased customers. But little has to be bought for the home, but ready cash is available or loans are made for such things as are needed. Bookkeeping enables these farm people to know what to ask for their products to make a profit, and they store and hold what they make until a profit is certain.

Among the products being canned is whole wheat processed for breakfast food of the most wholesome kind. This gets customers and repeated orders, because it is good and cheap. Cheap as it seems, I was assured that $14.75 a bushel is realized for the work of canning and selling, after allowing for the present price of wheat. Can you beat this in any business?

Health A Great Asset.

I was told that when the canning business was begun, the wife was an invalid, unable to do any household work, a great part of the time. She has become a "picture of health," and without the aid of the doctors. She attributes the change to the measure she has derived from being busy with something in which she can take pride, as well as to the great variety of wholesome food produced from her pantry. She loves her work, her home is her pride, the family is contented and happy. They have no fear of hard times. They know from experience that careful farming, careful saving and sound business judgment, backed by industry, will insure success and, if not a great fortune, a comfortable living. What they have accomplished has been "from the ground up," for they had little with which to start their present accumulation, and they admit freely that it has not been until within recent years that they have learned the way to make a living and to live as people on farms should.

Better State Fair.

It is pleasing to hear that the Texas State Fair this fall was a better fair and better patronized than last year. Nearly 700,000 paid admission to the grounds during the two weeks, showing that the people have money to spend for information and for pleasure, and that times are not so bad as pictured. 5 and 6 cent cotton is bad, but many Texans are finding that they can get along without cotton. Fairs, State, county and community, have been large factors in helping them to learn this lesson.

Fall Mohair Crop.

The fall mohair clip reached 9,250,000 pounds and exceeded all expectations. Top prices of 16 cents for grown and 36 cents for kid hair are quoted. Most of the Texas clip has gone to the National Wool Marketing Association. While prices are lower than growers would like, the sum total of sales will add much to Texas wealth.

Prosperity Pointers.

Some $300,000 is being spent for constructing citrus packing plants in the Rio Grande Valley to provide facilities for the increased crop.

Houston has plans ready for the erection of a $1,500,000 municipal hospital.

Work has begun on the new Federal building at Wichita Falls.

Several thousand people were at the new $1,500,000 Texas-Pacific Railway station in Fort Worth to see the first passenger train come into the station even if they did have to be there at sunrise.

Beaumont's million dollar courthouse, equipped with furniture costing $100,000 has been completed.

A plant with capacity of 25,000 bushels has been erected at Lindale to manufacture sweet potato crisps.

Wellington is to have a modern courthouse, the construction now being well under way.

Dallas county truck farms have realized an average of $89 per acre for their operators this year.

San Benito is among the fortunate Texas towns that is to have a new Federal building constructed soon.

The Texas turkey crop, to be marketed before the first of January, is estimated at $5,000,000.

A $200,000 oil refinery is being built near Baird to handle 1,400 barrels of oil daily from the adjoining fields.

Stamford citizens are making a survey looking to the erection of a cheese factory.

A Cameron county farmer has sold and marketed 8,000 pounds of okra seed, 600 pounds to local growers.

Smith county farmers are storing large quantities of stock feed in trench silos.

The fellow who wins is the one who can come right back after every blow—the man who can stand the punishment and come up smiling every time—the one who increases his determination as the resistance to his inevitable faith in himself and the ultimate success of his efforts.

The power of will and even temperament which are exercised under the most trying conditions often measure the difference between success and failure.

When you are fighting the battles of life and business, it is not alone the natural opposition you are struggling with but SELF, the one individual you must be able to conquer and dictate to at all times.—Selected.

DISTRICT 26, 18 PLAN POST SEASON FOOTBALL.

Uvalde, Texas, Nov. 10.—Plans for a post-season football game between two all-star Class B teams from Districts 26 and 18 which will be played on New Year's Day are being made, according to Gordon Barry, superintendent of the Hondo public schools, who is looking after the arrangements for the game in District 26.

Barry, last year, was one of the chief factors in arranging for a team from this district to play a Valley team in the Battle of Grapefruit at Hattiesburg.

District 26 includes the towns of Uvalde, Pearsall, Devine, Hondo, Sabinal, Cotulla, Asherton, Catarina, Carrizo Springs, Crystal City, and Eagle Pass. District 18 includes Beeville, Bastrop, Columbus, Eagle Lake, Flatonia, Giddings, LaGrange, Schertz, Smithville and Wiemar.

Members of the all-star teams will be selected by the various coaches of the two districts, after which the coaches will select two of their own number to coach the 22 players selected, who will meet at some designated point for a 10-day training period prior to the game.

Barry has been assured the use of Texas Memorial Stadium at Austin as well as officials for the game, all free of charge. If it is ascertained, however, that the game at Austin will not attract a sufficient number of fans, Smithville is understood to be bidding for the game and Uvalde will also be a serious contender before the site is definitely decided upon.

From the experience gained last year in the matter of selection and training of an all-star team, coaches of District 26 believe that this year they will be able to train the team at a much less expense than was incurred last year. —Wed. Express.

SECO COMMUNITY P. T. A.

The regular meeting of the Seco Community P. T. A. was held Friday night, Nov. 6. The business meeting was preceded by a short program rendered by the members of the club.

1. "America"—Audience.
2. "National Leaders from the Farm Group"—Raymond Weynand.
3. Guitar duet—Mr. Alfred Rudinger and Mr. Carl Rudinger.
4. "Big Business in the City vs. Little Business on the Farm"—Hubert Lutz.
5. Guitar music by the Messrs. Rudinger.
6. "How to Deal with a Child that Lies"—Mrs. Louis Pichot.
7. "Eyes of Texas"—Audience.

After this very enjoyable program the meeting was called to order by the President, Mrs. Louis Pichot, and reports of committees were heard. This was followed by the election of a new Treasurer, Mr. Henry Poerner because of the resignation of the former Treasurer, Mr. Eric Rothe.

The business meeting then closed and during the social hour refreshments of coffee and cake were served by Mesdames Alfred Rudinger, Paul Poerner, and Ed. Weynand.

Mr. Carl Rudinger entertained with several cowboy songs, accompanying himself on the guitar.

The program for the next meeting is being planned by Misses Margaret Lutz and Beulah Rudinger.

CARD PARTY.

There will be a card party at the Parish Hall, D'Hanis, from 2 to 5 o'clock, P. M., Sunday, November 15. There will be all kinds of card games, something to suit everyone. The party is given for the benefit of the St. Anthony school and everybody is cordially invited.

THE METHODIST PREACHERS.

In addition to interest in the return of the two local Methodist preachers, Rev. P. E. Lancaster to Hondo and Rev. Dechert to New Fountain, our readers will be interested to note that the recent annual Conference at Austin made the following, among other, changes: Rev. F. Foerster was sent to Manor, in the Austin district; Rev. H. C. Goodenough, former Presiding Elder of the Uvalde district, was made pastor at San Marcos; and Rev. H. M. King was continued as Executive Secretary of Conference Board of Christian Education.

Rev. Sterling Fisher was assigned to Brownsville in the Brownsville district; Rev. M. K. Fred. Mission; Rev. D. G. Hardt, Kingsville circuit, in Corpus Christi district; Rev. M. L. Darby was returned to Odem; Rev. J. Troy Hickman to Rockport; Bayside; Rev. Fred J. Brucks, Taft; Rev. F. W. Radetzky was assigned to Art in the Llano district; Rev. C. E. Wheat, Center Point-Boerne; Rev. L. D. Hardt, Paint Rock in the San Angelo district; Rev. M. Williamson was returned to Crystal City in the Uvalde district; Rev. A. M. Foster, to Devine-Lytle; Rev. W. H. Shine was sent to Yancey; Rev. Charles T. Hardt was made Missionary to Poland; and Rev. F. B. Buchanan comes to the Uvalde district as Presiding Elder, succeeding Rev. Goodenough. Rev. J. E. Estes goes to Port Lavaca in the Yoakum district and Rev. J. W. Long is returned to Waelder.

ST. PAUL'S LUTHERAN CHURCH.

"Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you: not as the world giveth give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid." John 14, 27.

"Therefore being justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ." Romans 5, 1.

What an ARMISTICE God has declared with men! Far deeper than man can ever make with man! Far more lasting, an unequivocal peace indeed. It is a peace which God gives to the soul, a peace that will always be treasured by the one who accepts it and who keeps it. It is a one-sided armistice, a peace that God offers to mankind without any heavy indemnity, a yoke that is easy and a burden that is light. Rest from an accusing conscience He offers us for always, if we accept, believe in His Son, Jesus Christ.

It is a beautiful thing and something for which we can be always grateful if we have peace with our fellowmen. But far better it is to be able to say "We have peace with God." Can you say that in this world of unrest? Can you say that you have been made "nigh by the blood of Christ, for He is our peace"? Blessed that soul who can answer in confident trust in Christ: "He is our peace."

The services on Sunday morning, Nov. 15, will be held in the English language.

There will be also a night service beginning at 7:30. If anyone has questions to ask regarding religious matters, they may be written and placed on the collection plate in any service, and will be answered at the night services.

The Sunday school will meet at 9:15. The annual review of the Sunday school topics is in progress to bring to a close the old church year. A new church year with new lessons will begin Nov. 29th.

The choir will rehearse on Wednesday night at 7:30.

ATTEND FETE FOR BUICK MEN.

Prior to the big showing of the new Buick Eight, activities of great pleasure have been offered Buick dealers in San Antonio and vicinity. Messrs. Preston Gaines and Robert Kollman, of C. R. Gaines and Sons, local dealers, attended such a meeting in San Antonio Tuesday of last week at which time they became acquainted with the newest servicing methods for the newer Buick cars. On Saturday, an entire day was given over to entertaining Buick men, and Messrs. R. W. Gaines and Preston Gaines from here were guests of the San Antonio dealers. Following a sales meeting, a luncheon was served at the San Antonio Country Club, and a tour was made of Randolph Field, where a talking picture of the new Buick was shown at the big field theatre. A delightful banquet was held for the Buick salesmen at the St. Anthony Hotel that night. The local Buick men report a very interesting survey of the new Buick and an exceedingly enjoyable time during the entertaining features.

NEW FOUNTAIN W. M. S.

Last Friday evening the members of the New Fountain Missionary Society met in the home of Mrs. William Wiemers for their regular monthly meeting.

The meeting opened by singing, "Rescue the Perishing." The following program was rendered: Prayer by Mrs. William Wiemers; the Devotional topic, "Accepting in Prayer Responsibility for Others," by Mrs. E. W. Dechert; the Missionary topic, "Rising Churches in Foreign Fields," by Mrs. T. G. Wiemers; a brief review of "New Churches in Brazil," by Mrs. Louisa Schweers; an interesting talk, "An Appeal from Japan," by Rev. E. W. Dechert; reading, "The Korean Church," by Mrs. Minnie Heyen. Missionary Bulletin News reported by the Publicity Secretary was read by Mrs. F. Stiegler.

The program was well rendered. The society enjoys a fine fellowship and congenial cooperation of its members.

After the short business session the hostess, assisted by her daughters, served a delicious sweet course to eleven members.

TENNIS.

All popular sports tend to become commercialized. Nowhere is this tendency more in evidence than in the development which has taken place in tennis. Born in a palace and the darling of the aristocratic classes for centuries, the hold of amateurism is exceptionally tenacious. But it is slipping. Fifty years ago the profits of the Wimbledon tournament were exactly nil; last year the profits were reputed to be around $185,000. If genuine amateurs play without remuneration in an exhibition which turns in a profit to promoters of that sum of money, they are defrauded; if they participate in the profits, they are professionals. A great player recently quit the game because, he said, "I don't want to become a tennis bum." Of course, "bum" is a hard word to apply to a person who lounges around expensive hotels or exclusive clubs, all summer, and travels de luxe over the greater portion of the civilized world, all expenses paid with an allowance of $15 or $20 per day for incidentals; but "bum" is the word which this frank young man chose to use. We should say that "professional" would more aptly describe this type of employment. For all the euphemisms, the indirections, or clever devices for giving a gentleman a tip cannot disguise the bald fact that a young man without independent means cannot possibly live this kind of life unless he is paid. And the present professional promoters of this great and good game begin early and proceed by easy stages to induct the talented player into a professional attitude toward the game. Balls, rackets, togs, etc., in many instances become available without cost to the youth who begins to show promise. The player 12 or 14 years old looks forward to the time when he will enjoy the rounds of tournaments, become a world traveler, all expenses paid, and so regards the game not as a sport, not as a recreation, not as a health-building, body-building activity, but as an employment. In short, his attitude becomes that of a professional. And while it is difficult to explain to the uninformed just why this matters, the truth is that it makes all the difference in the world. With the seeping in of professionalism, tennis sportsmanship suffers proportionately. We hear rumors of the temperamental star losing his temper at a bad shot and smashing an expensive racket into splinters against a net-post. We read in the papers of a player turning his ankle in a game and of his opponent rushing up to the judge and demanding an instant forfeiture of the match after the fashion of some pluggily in a wrestling bout. The very disciplines which justify school and amateur sports are lost. As profits become golden, the fine sportsmanship of traditional tennis becomes decidedly brassy. And a word of warning to Interscholastic League tennis players may prove timely: any player more than 15 years of age who accepts any valuable consideration, i. e., anything of utilitarian value, for participating, runs afoul of the League's amateur rule, which may be found stated in Section 8, Article VIII, of the Constitution and Rules.

She was seated on the sofa, softly murmuring her approval and gradually drawing closer to him when he arose, drew down the curtain, turned out the light, and with an air of determination, picked her up in his arms and threw her out into the night—for his folks did not want cats to stay in the house.
